

Crossword Puzzle featuring new words and meanings from Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary 9th Edition - 1

Across

1. a type of energy produced using organic substances that can be replaced naturally, such as wood or vegetable oil
3. (also cart, shopping cart both especially North American English) a facility on a website that records the items that you select to buy
7. the action of secretly finding a way of looking at and/or changing information on somebody else's computer system without permission
8. (slang) a person who pretends to be somebody else, usually somebody who does not really exist, on a social networking website in order to deceive other people
10. bring your own device (a policy that allows employees in a company to bring their own laptops, etc. to work, rather than use computers provided by the company)

Down

2. a Japanese form of comic strip for boys that usually has a lot of exciting action and adventure
4. (often in compounds) (used about computer hardware or software) able to be used with many different types of computer systems, software or operating systems
5. part of the process of online shopping in which the customer enters delivery information and pays for the item
6. if something on a social networking service, news website, blog, etc. receives a like, it means that somebody has shown that they agree with it or think it is good by clicking a special button
9. suitable to send out as a message on the Twitter social networking service