

Crossword Puzzle with the New Words from Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary 9th Edition

Answer Keys

Crossword Puzzle - 1

1. BIOENERGY a type of energy produced using organic substances that can be replaced naturally, such as wood or vegetable oil
2. SHONEN a Japanese form of comic strip for boys that usually has a lot of exciting action and adventure
3. BASKET (also cart, shopping cart both especially North American English) a facility on a website that records the items that you select to buy
4. AGNOSTIC (often in compounds) (used about computer hardware or software) able to be used with many different types of computer systems, software or operating systems
5. CHECKOUT part of the process of online shopping in which the customer enters delivery information and pays for the item
6. LIKE if something on a social networking service, news website, blog, etc. receives a like, it means that somebody has shown that they agree with it or think it is good by clicking a special button
7. HACKING the action of secretly finding a way of looking at and/or changing information on somebody else's computer system without permission
8. CATFISH (slang) a person who pretends to be somebody else, usually somebody who does not really exist, on a social networking website in order to deceive other people
9. TWEETABLE suitable to send out as a message on the Twitter social networking service
10. BYOD bring your own device (a policy that allows employees in a company to bring their own laptops, etc. to work, rather than use computers provided by the company)

Crossword Puzzle - 2

1. BIOETHANOL a type of alcohol, produced from sugar cane (= the plant from which sugar is made), maize / corn, etc., that is used as an alternative to petrol/gas
2. BIOENERGY a type of energy produced using organic substances that can be replaced naturally, such as wood or vegetable oil
3. GREENCOLLAR connected with industries that create products and provide services designed to improve and protect the environment
4. BEZZIE a person's closest friend
5. SHONEN a Japanese form of comic strip for boys that usually has a lot of exciting action and adventure
6. ADWARE a type of software that automatically displays or downloads advertisements on a computer screen, smartphone, etc. when a user is online
7. SCAREWARE a type of computer program that tricks a user into buying and downloading unnecessary software that could be dangerous for the computer
8. CATCHUP a service that allows you to watch television programmes on a computer or a special television after the time when they were originally broadcast
9. LIKE if something on a social networking service, news website, blog, etc. receives a like, it means that somebody has shown that they agree with it or think it is good by clicking a special button
10. HACKING the action of secretly finding a way of looking at and/or changing information on somebody else's computer system without permission
11. CYBERTHREAT the possibility that somebody will try to damage or destroy a computer network, computer system or website by secretly changing information on it without permission
12. BASKET (also cart, shopping cart both especially North American English) a facility on a website that records the items that you select to buy
13. CHECKOUT part of the process of online shopping in which the customer enters delivery information and pays for the item
14. AGNOSTIC (often in compounds) (used about computer hardware or software) able to be used with many different types of computer systems, software or operating systems

Crossword Puzzle - 3

1. BIODEFENCE measures taken to protect people against an attack using biological weapons (= weapons of war that spread disease)
2. CYBERATTACK the act of trying to damage or destroy a computer network, computer system or website by secretly changing information on it without permission
3. AUTOFILL a piece of software that remembers information and uses it to fill in data in an online form so that you do not have to type it again
4. BRAIN CANDY popular entertainment in the form of a film, TV programme, etc., that does not improve your knowledge or make you think seriously about a subject or issue
5. CHECKOUT part of the process of online shopping in which the customer enters delivery information and pays for the item
6. BIOBANK a large collection of samples of tissue (= a group of cells that form the different parts of humans, animals and plants) and data connected with medicine or biology, brought together for research
7. AGNOSTIC (often in compounds) (used about computer hardware or software) able to be used with many different types of computer systems, software or operating systems
8. SHONEN a Japanese form of comic strip for boys that usually has a lot of exciting action and adventure
9. LIKE if something on a social networking service, news website, blog, etc. receives a like, it means that somebody has shown that they agree with it or think it is good by clicking a special button
10. BIOETHANOL a type of alcohol, produced from sugar cane (= the plant from which sugar is made), maize / corn, etc., that is used as an alternative to petrol/gas
11. ADWARE a type of software that automatically displays or downloads advertisements on a computer screen, smartphone, etc. when a user is online
12. BIOENERGY a type of energy produced using organic substances that can be replaced naturally, such as wood or vegetable oil
13. AUTOCOMPLETE to complete a word or expression automatically before somebody has finished typing it; to be completed automatically
14. CONTACTLESS relating to the technology that allows a smart card (= a small plastic card used to store information electronically), mobile/cell phone, etc. to contact an electronic device that it is not connected to, usually in order to make a payment
15. TWITTERATI people who are very enthusiastic about using the Twitter social networking service and use it a lot
16. HACKING the action of secretly finding a way of looking at and/or changing information on somebody else's computer system without permission
17. SCAREWARE a type of computer program that tricks a user into buying and downloading unnecessary software that could be dangerous for the computer
18. CATFISH (slang) a person who pretends to be somebody else, usually somebody who does not really exist, on a social networking website in order to deceive other people
19. CATCHUP a service that allows you to watch television programmes on a computer or a special television after the time when they were originally broadcast
20. BEZZIE a person's closest friend