

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Oxford University Press will tour 11 cities throughout Japan to support primary English teachers
~Workshop series to explore ways to build the foundations for student output

Release Date: February 1, 2016

Oxford University Press (located in Minato-ku, Tokyo; represented by Managing Director Kiyokazu Nakamura) is holding its annual workshop tour, Oxford Teaching Workshop Series, in 11 cities this February and March. These workshops guide English teachers of young learners through the ins and outs of teaching beyond the textbook with tips and advice from a variety of experts, world-renowned authors and teacher trainers. They have been enormously well-received by teachers, and during recent years, over one thousand teachers participated in the series every year.

Topics that will be covered in this year's workshops include: implementing effective teaching methods and activities, using supplementary materials, classroom management techniques, storytelling and introducing chants and songs into your lessons. The content is well-suited for teachers of private language schools, elementary schools and kindergartens.

Oxford Teaching Workshop Series 2016 – Building the foundations for student output

[Date and Venue]

Feb. 6, Sat	Yokohama Radio Nippon Kaigishitsu A+B
Feb. 7, Sun	Osaka Shin Osaka Brick Bldg. 3F Hall A+B+C+D
Feb. 14, Sun	Sendai TKP Garden City Sendai Hall C
Feb. 14, Sun	Nagoya Nagoya AT Bldg. 2F Nagoya Sun Sky Room A
Feb. 21, Sun	Tokyo Aioi Nissay Dowa Sonpo Shinjuku Bldg. B1 Hall
Feb. 27, Sat	Oita Ariston Hotel Oita 2F Ariston Hall
Feb. 28, Sun	Fukuoka TKP Garden City Hakata Annex Jupiter
Feb. 28, Sun	Niigata Co-op City Hanazono 4F Garesso Hall
Mar. 6, Sun	Saitama TKP Omiya Business Center Hall 2
Mar. 13, Sun	Sapporo Sapporo-Shi Kyoiku Bunka Kaikan 3F 302
Mar. 13, Sun	Hiroshima Hiroshima YMCA Bldg. 2 B1F Convention Hall

Tokyo Workshop 2015

Admission free. Pre-registration recommended.

More details: www.oupjapan.co.jp/en/kidsclub/otws2016/

[Contact]

For more details, please contact us.

Kayoko Ikeda Sales & Marketing Division, Oxford University Press

Email: newsletter.japan@oup.com

Through collaborating with teachers, technology partners and academic researchers at the University of Oxford, Oxford University Press works to create the best possible environment for learning and teaching. With a history dating back to 1478 and over 50 years' experience in Japan's educational industry, Oxford University Press is most widely known as a book publisher, however it also provides a wide range of educational services, working with institutions and teachers to meet the changing needs of students at all ages and levels. Oxford University Press is driven by its mission and belief that education changes lives and it strives to create vibrant classrooms which prepare students and teachers for the global stage.

About Oxford University Press

For over 500 years, Oxford University Press, a department of Oxford University, has demonstrated its commitment to furthering the University's objective of excellence in research, scholarship and education by publishing worldwide. Oxford University Press is the world's largest university press publishing over 6,000 new titles each year from dictionaries and scholarly books to textbooks, readers and children's books, and has a presence in over 50 countries world-wide.

In 1957 Oxford University Press opened its branch office in Tokyo and continues to work in partnership with teaching professionals in Japan to provide educational support services that meet the changing needs of educators and learners. With satellite offices in Osaka and Fukuoka, Oxford University Press strives to improve language education nationwide through consultation, the selection of teaching materials, building curricula and teacher training. It is proud to work with the finest authors and educators, sponsoring speakers to present at conferences and arranging teacher-training workshops across the country.

Head Office: 3F Sotetsu Tamachi Bldg. 4-17-5 Shiba, Minato-Ku, Tokyo 108-8386

Managing Director: Kiyokazu Nakamura

Establishment: November 1st, 1957 | Capital: 89,824,000 yen

Tel: 03-5444-5454 | E-mail: elt.japan@oup.com | Web: <http://www.oupjapan.co.jp>